LIBRARY POLLINATOR GARDEN

NATIVE MILKWEED

In November the RGV Pollinator Project was able to successfully plant native milkweed at the Library pollinator garden.

A total of 12 plants were placed throughout the beds of the pollinator garden at the Laguna Vista Library. Eight of these were mature and part of our relocation effort to move native milkweed from sites pending development into places like this garden so they stay in the area to continue to serve our pollinators. The other four (located at the west end) are young seedlings we have grown from seed. We will monitor them to see how well they grow at this stage.

KEEP YOUR PETS SAFE DURING THE HOLIDAYS

Here are some tips we found to help keep your pet healthy this holiday season.

Make sure that you, and your guests keep all human food out of reach of your pet.

Provide a safe place for your pet to escape the excitement (such as a kennel, crate, perching place, scratching post shelf or hiding place) if you're entertaining guests. If your pet is excitable or scared, consider putting your pet in another room with some toys and a comfortable bed.

Keep holiday plants (especially holly, mistletoe and lillies) out of reach of pets.

RGV Pollinator Project

The RGV Pollinator Project is led by a group of Texas Master Naturalists which include Chery Brummett, Alicia Cavazos, and Susan Upton whose goal is to help bring back the Monarch Butterflies to the Valley by germinating and planting the native Zizote Milkweed into the existing pollinator gardens at STEC and other butterfly gardens in the Rio Grande Valley. STEC Staff will work with them in the preparation of the plantings. Working together to discuss the focus and direction of the RGV Pollinator Project will better the goals and programs that the two entities share together. We look forward to have the native Zizote Milkweed grow at the STEC for the betterment and survival of the beautiful Monarch Butterfly.

We look forward to working together with the RGV Pollinator program to make a difference for the RGV pollinators!
